Syed Ali Ahsan, the new owner of Racing, is turning into a bonanza for the Cantabria regional government wants to take, but "little by little," according to this newspaper yesterday said the Cantabrian president, Miguel Angel Revilla. The latest contribution of Mr. Ali in the development of the autonomous region is its participation as a private employer in the Comillas Foundation, under the same conditions as the other five already registered: Banco Santander, Caja Cantabria, La Caixa, Telefonica and El Corte Ingles. This means an initial contribution of three million euros and an annual contribution of 300,000.

Indian tycoon passed yesterday for the first time the borders of the capital to make two visits to luxury Comillas and Santillana del Mar. In both went 'impressed', but in most stopped and had a clear objective was the village comillana. Revilla had already paved the way to talk about the excellence of Comillas project as a center of excellence in teaching Spanish. And I found Syed Ali 'in situ'. According to reported the same, he was "speechless" to see the beauty of the Major Seminary and Pontifical University Sobrellano Palace. "This is a fantastic project," he repeated again and again to their hosts, therefore, considered a "privilege" to involvement in it. He was "delighted" to join the foundation "with Banco Santander and other sponsors." A desire that later confirmed the Government of Cantabria, to the extent that Syed Ali already has all the documentation as President of the Fundación Comillas, Ignacio Gaviria, is expected to contact the financial director of the entrepreneur to realize their incorporation "as before, "Gaviria told, he judged" very positive "the Indian tycoon's interest in the project. Some issues to realize is if they appear with their own identity or through one of its companies, as Syed Ali wants to create a foundation to provide scholarships to students from your country without financial resources.

Along with Revilla, accompanied the Indian businessman in his own Gavira visit also the Minister of Culture, Javier López Marcano, the Mayor of Comillas, Maria Teresa Noceda, and President of Racing, Francisco Pernia.

Cantabrian president clarified that Syed Ali's participation not only implies their presence in the Comillas Foundation, but also the commitment to disseminate the project in his country. "I knew I was going to like, because it is a sensitive man," said the president, who introduced the Indian tycoon's flagship project Cantabrian Executive in order to link the region beyond his ownership of a team Football: 'We want to engage on issues of Cantabria, who wants it and is one more of us. "

Speaking to this newspaper, the Cantabrian president referred to the enthusiasm of Indian businessman both in relation to the project Comillas and the United World Colleges, "which he already knows because no one in India."

The visit to Santillana del Mar was brief but bound by its proximity to Comillas. Mr. Ali also there was "delighted" to visit the main sights and see the magnificent architecture. "He kept his eyes wide," said regional president, which abounded in the interest of the Government of Cantabria encourage you to participate in projects of interest to the region, "with whom he is excited" and the first one has been the de Comillas.

The language of Cervantes

Revilla was very pleased with the visit of Comillas Racing owner, "not only representing their presence in the project, but because they are interested in spreading in India", with the impact it may have for the autonomous region. "He wants to recruit students from your country and come here to learn the language of Cervantes' he said. Language Foundation representatives also offered to teach the Indian businessman, for now, is expressed exclusively in English.

The president of the Comillas Foundation explained that the Spanish penetration in India is easier than in other Asian countries like China, because the entire population speaks English, so that the Anglo-Saxon language is no longer a priority. For the mayor of Comillas, it is clear that the president's enthusiasm for the central Cantabrian Spanish has facilitated the participation of Indian tycoon in the project and hoped to engage in other programs of interest.

Just hours before attending the Racing game with Villarreal in El Sardinero, Indian businessman lunch, with part of his entourage at a restaurant in Mt.
